

News From the Studio

Dispatches from the strange world of Papier Mâché Patty

In this issue

- Horsing About
- Travels with Bob
- Pop up Patty
- Goodbye Instagram

Here Comes the Sun...

Well, maybe... but spring is definitely on its way and there are exciting things on the horizon for Papier Mache Patty. I am expanding my empire (it's Bob's influence - he's so ambitious!) Read on for all the details...

The Year of the Fire Horse

Yes, another year, another Zodiac animal for Artspace. This one was particularly dear to my heart, as I was born in the last year of the Fire Horse. (Those of you with a mathematical bent can work out my age from that...) Sentiment apart, it didn't stop it being a pig of a build. As ever though, it all seemed to come together at the last minute, thanks to brilliant contributions from my fellow Artspacers! And here we are, proudly parading her through the February sunshine! (Sunshine! I know!!)

Where's Bob Off to??

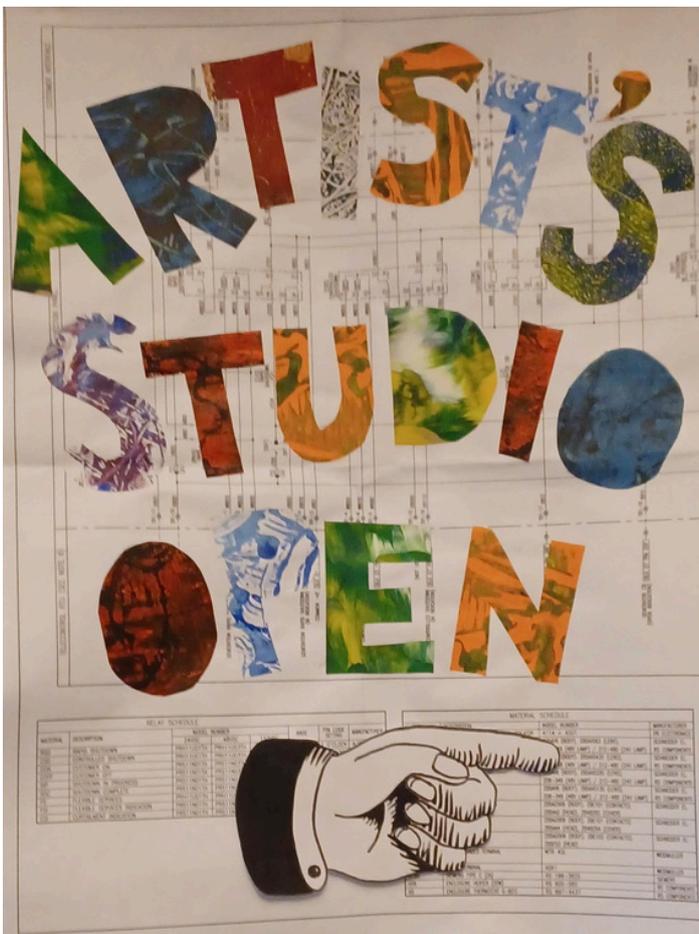

Papier Mache Patty

Join me for my residential workshop in Grasmere this September. There will be a taught session every day, plus free time to relax and enjoy the beautiful Lakeland setting. For more details contact pattyaidacallaghan@gmail.com Or scan the QR code

Meet Bob the Dog!

Book your place at:
<https://glenthorne.org/events/events-bookings/>

Yes, Bob is off on his travels again, up to Grasmere in September for our lovely Papier Mache course at the Glenthorne Retreat Centre. If you've never been, you're in for a treat. A whole week of papier mache fun. You'll spend your mornings creating a papier mache creature and the rest of the time enjoying beautiful scenery, peaceful accommodation and, of course, Glenthorne's legendary food. And all in the company of like-minded folk. Plus the bonus of meeting Bob himself. If it all sounds right up your street then contact me in the usual way for more information, or book direct at Glenthorne's website

A New Venture!!

April sees the start of my 6-week pop-up Open Studios event in Macc. I'm very excited. It will be in the Grosvenor Centre, near the Chestergate entrance. Look out for my somewhat distinctive poster (when I say 'cut and paste', I really mean it.) I'll be there Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 10 till 4, messing about with glue and paper. Pop in to say hello and have a brew. And the really exciting thing is that I'll be running daily drop-in workshops in Creative Art and Papier Mache.

I'll have a range of projects for people to have a go at and you can come to as many or as few as you like. Keep an eye on my website for more details but, if you're interested, get in touch and I'll email regular updates.

Social Media Shenanigans

Those of you who follow me on Social media may have noticed recently that my Instagram and Facebook pages are no longer available. Our Lords and Masters at Meta have told me that I have 'violated' their rules. As you'll have realised by now, I'm a dangerous maniac who is seeking to use the immense power of papier mache to overthrow the state and install my own oppressive regime. Now that I've been rumbled I find myself quite relieved to no longer have to use social media. Fortunately, I have a very lovely website instead, managed by the estimable Tim, so if you hop over there you'll be able to keep in touch with my fiendish plans. Up Yours Instagram!

And I've not even had time to tell you about costumed life drawing, WI demonstrations, papier mache workshops and displays in Rainow and Hurdsfield. The list goes on. You really are going to have to check out my blog...

Stay in Touch...

pattyaidacallaghan@gmail.com

www.pattycallaghan.com